

Infants 104 Newsletter

Happy February, Infant 104 families! January absolutely flew by. We enjoyed learning about the different places we can go with our loved ones to see animals. We learned so many different animal sounds and names! It was so fun seeing the babies start saying different sounds. By far the favorite animal sounds were “roar” and an elephant trumpet. The babies got a kick out of Ms. Vi’s elephant impression!

We welcomed new friends this month! Desmond and August joined our class. We are so happy that they and their families are here. We also enjoyed seeing all the babies and their families at the fundraiser showing off their awesome dance moves!

This month we are learning about the things we love. Please be sure to look out for any notifications of special requests during the month as we may be doing some special crafts!

We have the book fair this month on 2/1! We will have infant staff reading at the Barnes and Noble at the Galleria Mall. In addition, our infant staff have selected items that we are in most need of from Target, Amazon and Barnes and Noble. If you are able, we would really appreciate your support of our classroom!

Please be sure to check your child's cubby regularly for art projects to take home and that they have enough extra clothes that are the right size. Please also check brightwheel regularly as that is how we will communicate when your child is running low on things. Our classroom can be chilly, so make sure there are socks available to keep those tiny toes warm!

Thank you for trusting us with your baby. We take that trust seriously and we get very excited to see you and your baby each day. As always, reach out with any question or concerns.
